

Project: Midtown Arts And Theater Center

Location: Houston, TX

Completion: June 2016

Scope: Located at the Ensemble/HCC Metrorail stop, the Midtown Arts and Theater Center Houston (MATCH) is a $25 million community arts complex that hosts a variety of performances and presentations by emerging arts and culture organizations. In need of a highly flexible solution to accommodate a wide array of events, the facility tapped Sightline Commercial Solutions to design a modular, multi-configuration seating riser. Split between two of the Center's four performance spaces, the system holds 100-130 seats, depending on its configuration, and features charcoal gray Riser platforms with mill finish frames, black powder coated railing and stair units, and black Wyndham fabric skirting. Without the need for any cumbersome tools, MATCH production teams can easily set up and utilize the system to meet performance requirements while greatly improving capacity and ticket revenue.
